

Money issuing sector consists of institutions, which issue liabilities with high degree of moneyness. These institutions are named Monetary financial institutions (MFIs) and they are reporting agents, that submit reports with needful information for compiling of monetary aggregates. MFIs are domestic resident entities. According to sectorization of ESA 95 to this sector they are following:

S. 121 The Central bank

S. 122 Other monetary financial institutions – credit institutions and money market funds

List of these entities are published in “List of Monetary financial institutions” Their short description is in sector manual.